Oliver Kemp Artist Dies in Lansing

WAS ARTIST FOR MARQUETTE LOG CONSTRUCTION CO.

Oliver Kemp, widely known artist of outdoor life, died at his apartment in Lansing Friday night of a heart attack. He was 58 years old.

At one time Kemp was one of the most prolific artists in the country. His work adorned many of the nation's magazine covers. He did his best work from 1907 to 1914. He also wrote a number of works on outdoor life.

Kemp was a veteran of the World War, a world traveler, and somewhat of a soldier of fortune. He was born in Delaware. There are no close relatives.

Major Kemp came to Grayling in March of 1933 to take charge of the art and publicity work for the National Log Construction Co. and continued to late in the fall, when he went to Lansing to open an art studio.

While here he made many friends. He was a delightful character and most interesting in conversation. For six years he studied art in Paris and other foreign art centers and had visited most of the great art galleries of the world. He loved the great outdoors and to study the art of nature. We recall our visit with him to the Pines. Here he pointed out the mystery of nature's color schemes, and was enthusiastic over some of the color combination on the trees. The most of his paintings were woods and lumbering scenes, and some of his paintings adorn the walls of art galleries and of personal friends. A fine one hangs in the entrance to the Post Tavern hotel, Battle Creek. A front cover painting for the Michigan Sportsman magazine last fall brought him much praise. He made oil paintings of many well known Americans, among them being one of President Theodore Roosevelt.

We visited him frequently at his Lansing studio and we shall miss him greatly while in the Capital city. Friends in Lansing are endeavoring to make arrangements for his burial in Arlington National cemetery.

WILL OPEN DENTAL OFFICE HERE

The upstairs rooms in the Alexander building have been nicely renovated and redecorated for Dr. J. F. Cook of Alpena, who is opening a dental office in Grayling.

Doctor Cook has been here for several days getting his office arranged, and his equipment which is of the very latest is being installed, and he will be open tomorrow for business, having a number of appointments for his opening day.

Doctor Cook is a graduate of Marquette University and we are sure he will be a welcome addition to Grayling's circle of professional men.

BARN AND CONTENTS BURN

Several Loss To Maple Forest Township

Fire of unknown origin, which destroyed the William Bigham barn in Maple Forest township, together with its contents, in the barn at the time of the fire was one of his milk cows which perished in the conflagration.

The hay and straw crops from the summer's harvest were stored in the barn together with farm machinery, harness and farming implements. All were lost.

The origin of the fire is unknown, except that it is surmised that it may have been caused by spontaneous combustion, due from the presence of new-mown hay in which there was some amount of moisture. Hay in such condition has been known to ignite and burst into flames.

There was no insurance on the barn nor contents and the loss is a very serious one. Mr. Bigham and his family have the sympathy of their friends in their misfortune.

FORMER GRAYLING BOY WRITES PLAY

In the latest issue of "Dramatics" is an item of interest to Grayling people, that concerns Rev. Ralph P. Claggett, a former Grayling boy. Rev. Claggett writes plays and the item tells of his latest one "Worthy His Hire," which has been produced with marked success.

A synopsis of Rev. Claggett's career is also given and we are pleased to print it herewith.

Born in Grayling, Michigan, March 31, 1891, he graduated from Benzonia Academy, Oberlin College (A.B.) and Oberlin Graduate School of Theology. For two years he was executive secretary on the staff of the Y. M. C. A. in Kansas City, Missouri; for two years city secretary for high school boys with Y. M. C. A. in Detroit; for five summers he has been manager of Nisabona Camp for men and boys of the Detroit Y. M. C. A. Mr. Claggett is now pastor of the Congregational Church at Highland Park, Michigan. Since entering the ministry he has spent several summers in Chicago and New York in the study of the drama, his courses in Columbia University including play writing, play production and educational dramatics. He is the author of "Christ in High School Life," and of three religious plays. He may be addressed at Highland Park, Michigan.

Incidentally, Rev. Claggett recently visited in Grayling at the Wm. McCullough cabin on the AuSable, and while here renewed many old acquaintances.

HAD 42,000 PROPOSALS OF MARRIAGE IN A WEEK

Discussing the case of a woman, looking like Miss West, who was suddenly deluged with proposals of marriage, but all she said was "Rasberries! Nobody loved me until I inherited $4,000,000." Read the article in The American Weekly with Sunday's Detroit Times.

2-Ball Foursomes Prove Popular

GOLF CLUB ENJOYS SOCIAL DAY SUNDAY

Last Sunday Grayling Golf club and the Auxiliary members enjoyed a social afternoon together. Two-ball foursomes played a tournament, prizes awaiting the winners.

The men drew slips containing the names of their lady partners, and soon the game was on and it seems everyone had a grand time. The first shots were made by the men, with the ladies alternating and some very excellent scores were made by the several teams.

Esbern Olson and Mrs. Roy Milnes had the lowest score—a 48, while the largest score was about 70.

A driving contest was staged at the 3rd tee and was open for all contestants. The distance is about 140 yards. Each contestant shot 3 balls. Billy Rase had the best shot when he dropped a ball within 4 feet and 2 inches. Walter Woodson was second and was 7 feet, and 9 inches from the pin.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Burdick had asked the privilege of furnishing the prizes for the day, and the winners were indeed lucky. The day ended with a delicious pot luck dinner.

GRAYLING ENTERS FLOAT AT CARO

At the sugar festival held at Caro, Mich., last week Grayling was there with flying colors representing "the greatest outdoor playground in northern Michigan."

"The Grayling Winter Sports Park" Through the efforts of Holger F. Peterson, a beautiful float was entered in the big parade at Caro held there Friday night.

Carrying our Winter Sports queen, Miss Lulu Malonen, who was beautifully attired in her winter sports clothes, sitting on a throne, a duplicate of the ice and snow throne at the Winter Sports park last winter.

Miss Malonen reports a splendid reception accorded her by the huge crowds of people. She was royally entertained while there, winding up at a banquet Grayling was the only town from Northeastern Michigan represented there and the announcer, Jack Davis, who built our float, gave it all the publicity possible.

What are the things that get Grayling out in front? Holger F. Peterson, president of the Winter Sports association, doesn't miss a chance to advertise Grayling and is at all times for the advancement of our recreational facilities.

ASKS CEMETERY LOT OWNERS TO CLEAN UP

John Hanselman is again the caretaker of Grayling cemeteries and has been spending a lot of time and doing a lot of hard work in cleaning up the place and setting it in order.

Many lot owners, Mr. Hanselman says, give them little or no care and some of them are in need of a good cleaning, and asks owners to cooperate toward making the cemetery what it should be—clean, orderly and attractive.

What Mr. Hanselman requests is no more than any respectable citizen should be glad to comply with. People do forget such matters, but now that their attention is being called to it, they should get busy and spend a little effort in their duty to departed relatives and friends.

A cemetery should be one of the cleanest places in a community. Another matter that he complains of is that some people do not keep to the driveways and that they drive across private lots, and even graves. This is a serious offense and is punishable by fine and imprisonment. The next person caught doing this trick, Mr. Hanselman says, will be complained of and arrested.

GRAYLING LAUNDRY HOLDS ANNUAL PICNIC

The employees of the Grayling Laundry held their annual picnic at the Higgins Lake State Park last Saturday as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Holger F. Peterson. A wonderful time was reported with plenty of good things to eat and drink.

It was a regular play day and to see all at play would remind one of a crowd of children. This is an annual affair for the Laundry employees and is always well planned.

Changes Made At Mercy Hospital

There has been a number of changes made in the personnel at Grayling Mercy Hospital.

Sister M. Stella, who has been superintendent for the past two years and has been at the hospital here for a long number of years has been transferred to Cadillac, where she will be supervisor of surgery and anesthetics at the hospital there.

Grayling is extremely sorry to lose Sister M. Stella and trust her stay at Cadillac will not be for long but that she will be returned here soon.

She is very proficient in her work and loved by everyone who knows her. Sister M. Monica of Hammond, Indiana, is the new superintendent; Sister M. Agatha of Grand Rapids is procurator; Sister Mary Ambrose of Manistee is the second floor supervisor; Sister Mary Hildegard, Grand Rapids is Laboratory operation supervisor; Sister M. Beatrice is night supervisor; Sister Mary Agnes of Grand Rapids is here in an effort to restore her health and may stay.

We welcome the new Sisters to Mercy Hospital and trust they will like Grayling.

TO SHOW CARNIVAL MOVIES

Movies taken on the trip are in the process of development. They will be shown in Grayling in one or two weeks. Following the showing the Tourist Association will present a proposal of interest to Grayling guides. It is a log of the entire trip from this city to Lake Huron. Many tourists would make the trip but shy from it because they are not familiar with the extremely low cost of transportation, meals, lodging, etc.

The proposed folder would include a complete illustrated map of the journey, giving distances, points of interest and other pertinent information. The reverse side will bear a brief literary sketch of the river with a listing of Grayling guides and their rates. Out of such a plan might easily grow some sort of Guides' Association, from which there would be a direct benefit to men who rely in part or wholly on trips down the river for an existence.

If present plans materialize the pamphlet will be distributed at the showing of the film in 300 or more midwestern cities this winter.

REWARD

Large sample pictures in frames have been stolen from the show case in front of our studio repeatedly, and we hereby offer a reward for the arrest and conviction of the guilty parties. This is a breaking and entering and the parties should be apprehended.

WHEN we stop to realize how Ben Carpenter has gone to bat for our people so many times in the past, it is hard to understand how anyone who knows the facts can think of doing anything else but vote for him in the primary election on September 11th. This is no time to forget the favors bestowed upon us in a time of need. There is no finer principle than that of friendship, from it spring the golden fruits of gratitude. Gratitude is a principle that we all should cultivate, and when the time comes that we can give it expression, we should be only too glad to do so. It is our opinion that the 28th senatorial district hasn't been so well represented in the state senate as it is with Mr. Carpenter there representing us. Mr. Carpenter is a plain, earnest citizen, but as an official he seems to anticipate conditions ahead of most men in the senate and knows what is going on at all times. When we have the best senator from our district since the days of Eugene Foster of Gladwin, 20 years ago, let's keep him there.

H. C. McKinley of Gaylord, one-time editor and owner of the Gaylord Herald, was a caller at this office recently, while in town to see the carnival parade. H. C. is still young in spirit in spite of his 88 years. Mr. McKinley is in remarkably good health, his eyesight and hearing are excellent for one of his years, and his memory and clear thinking is astonishing. He is as active as one half his age, and is still the clean minded, intelligent and interesting man that he was the first time we met him, 23 years ago. Mac has a personal charm about him that make people love him, and want to see him often. May there be many more years of happiness in store for him before he leaves us with only rich memories of his splendid personality.

WHO PAYS the heavy gas tax? Is it the man with the family car who does a little driving around town and occasionally goes to some neighboring city, or is it the tourists, the truck lines and others who take long auto trips about the state and country? That is easy to answer. We people who use a car comparatively little, pay but little gas tax. If the state tax is reduced from 3 cents a gallon to 2 cents, it would hardly be noticed. When we stop to consider the amount of money coming back into Crawford county from the gas tax we will find that the people staying here at home pay but a small portion of that which comes back to us. This goes into building and maintaining highways here at home. It builds better highways over which we have to travel, and good roads reduce gas and oil consumption while poor roads require a greater volume of gas and oil. We are unable to reason out that a reduction of the gas tax at this time is good business, especially for our home people. Those who take long auto trips and use large quantities of gas can well afford to pay the extra tax. And it may be well to mention that there are literally thousands of out-of-state cars upon our highways that purchase gas and thus contribute to the cost of our own state and county highways. We will be asked to vote on an amendment in the November election for a reduction of the tax on gas. Michigan's fine highways attract many tourists here who do not object to the payment of a 3 cent gas tax, so why economy to vote NO on that question.

THE RAILROADS do not like the retirement act and would be glad to have its validity tested in court. Under the terms of the act, common carriers and employees contribute to a fund for the support of workers when old age comes upon them. Pensioning worn-out employees is not new as a suggestion, but that plan is new as a practical and operative matter. There was a time when the village blacksmith or cooper, sustained by an apprentice or two, could continue his working days well beyond the allotted three score and ten. Business was local, owned by the small-scale proprietor, and he could labor into old age if he saw fit to do so. Now it is centralized and the old timer who wishes work must walk hat in hand from plant to plant, instead of simply strolling from his house to his own shop. The gray-haired worker has gone pretty much into the discard, but he cannot be knocked in the head. Perhaps the railroad officials and everyone else had better get down to brass tacks and decide what is to be done with him.

FALSE RUMORS
 Any rumor that may arise, whether it has a merit of truth or not, especially when it has a touch of sensation about it, travels rapidly and at times causes anxiety and heartbreaks. It is only natural that people who hear such reports are quick to pass it along. A recent rumor of an auto wreck in which it was reported that one of our well known citizens was killed, proved to be entirely without foundation. And the truth was found out not before it had caused a lot of anguish in the family of the reported victim. Whether this rumor was started as a joke or not, it was a serious affair. Extreme caution should be given to any reports of a serious nature until every evidence has been secured as to its authenticity. At times serious consequences develop in such cases and too much care cannot be given before any such reports are given out.

Mrs. Harry Raino and daughter Betty, of Detroit, arrived yesterday to visit at the home of her mother, Mrs. James Reynolds until Labor Day. The Farmers and Oldtimers annual picnic will be held at the Beaver Creek town hall on Sunday, Sept. 2. This has been the occasion of many old residents of the Beaver Creek colony returning to visit old neighbors and friends, and the custom is growing each year. There will be dancing, a base ball game and field sports and a good time for old and young. Prepare to bring a well filled basket and bring your family for the day. Everyone welcome.

Speaker Rainey's Death Starts Race for His Position—Prominent Men Organize Liberty League to Combat Radicalism.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD

HENRY T. RAINEY, veteran congressman from Illinois and speaker of the house, died unexpectedly in a St. Louis hospital where he was being treated for an attack of pneumonia. The immediate cause of his death was angina pectoris. Mr. Rainey, who was within a day of being seventy-four years old, was first elected to congress in 1902, and he served continuously with the exception of one term, being defeated in the Harding landslide of 1920. He was elected to the speakership when John Nance Garner became Vice President. His control over the house during the sessions of last year and this year, while the President's program was being put through, was gentle but so firm that the legislators were kept well in line.

Mr. Rainey devoted much of his service in Washington to efforts to improve the condition of the farmers, for he held that farm prosperity was essential in any program for national well being. He also was a student of tariff and fiscal subjects. As a Democrat he was always a "regular." He was the author of the tariff commission law and of much other important legislation. Mr. Rainey acted as his husband's secretary for years and is so well acquainted with congressional work that the Democrats may select him as the candidate to complete his term as representative from the Twentieth Illinois district.

Mr. Rainey was buried in his home town, Carrollton, after services which were attended by President Roosevelt and many other notable persons.

SPEAKER RAINEY'S death will result in a spirited contest among a number of men who are ambitious to succeed him. First in the line of succession, so to speak, is Representative Joseph W. Byrns of Tennessee, who has been serving as majority floor leader and who is head of the Democratic congressional committee. President Roosevelt is going to take no part in the race, but the more liberal of the New Dealers in the house are known to favor Nam Rayburn of Texas. Well informed observers believe Byrns will be elected speaker and Rayburn floor leader. Other aspirants for the speakership are John E. Rankin of Mississippi, who has announced his candidacy; William B. Bankhead of Alabama, and John J. O'Connor of New York.

Mr. Byrns has been a member of the house continuously since his election to the Sixty-first congress. His work as floor leader, in conjunction with Rainey's rule as speaker, was not especially pleasing to the New Dealers, for some months during the last session, but before adjournment most of the misunderstandings were cleared up. In any case, the administration seldom interferes in the selection of the leaders of congress, not wishing to incur the animosity of powerful members of the party.

RETURNING from his swift trip to attend the funeral of Mr. Rainey, the President went directly back to Washington instead of going to his Hyde Park home. This change in plan was due, it was said, to the development of a bitter dispute between Gen. Hugh S. Johnson on one side and Donald Richberg, Mr. Roosevelt's chief industrial adviser, and Secretary of Labor Perkins on the other, over the new structure to be given the NRA.

The issue, it was disclosed, is whether there shall be a board of control in authoritative management of the NRA or a board which shall be more advisory in power, leaving the real control still in the hands of the administrator and his deputies. It was expected Mr. Roosevelt would take command of the situation and determine definitely what shall be done with the recovery administration.

General Johnson has said that, at the request of the President he will remain with the NRA after its reorganization, and presumably he will be chairman of the board.

ORGANIZED labor scored a victory over Recovery Administration leader Johnson, when the national labor relations board ordered John Donovan, former president of the NRA union, dismissed by Johnson for "inefficiency," reinstated to his position with the labor advisory board.

"The agencies which are administering the law should in their own dealings uphold its purposes," the board said in its decision, giving a valued report to Johnson for what it implied was a violation of section 7a of the NIRA.

With rather bad grace the NRA accepted the rebuke and permitted Donovan to return to his job. Johnson himself had nothing to say about it, but Dr. Gustav Peck, Donovan's immediate superior, issued a statement in which he intimated at the board's decision and warned Donovan that he would have to "see the mark."

Soon after this the NIRA announced that it does not regard itself as obliged to withdraw the Blue Eagle in cases where the national labor relations board has found companies guilty of violation of section 7A of the national industrial recovery act and of subsequent failures to obey the instructions of the board.

The labor board has recommended withdrawal of the Blue Eagle in the NIRA. The board in all cases where companies have disobeyed its instructions to reinstate discharged employees. The decision of the NIRA will remove teeth from decisions by the board, since it may now hear cases, make decisions, and then that no penalties are indicated for disobeying its orders.

COTTON garment code amendments reducing the working hours and giving workers a wage increase have been signed by the President. The amendments, which affect plants in 12 states, are of far-reaching importance.

Sidney H. Brown, labor advisory board member and Amalgamated Clothing union leader, termed signing of the order "the most far-reaching move NIRA has yet made to increase employment." It was hoped that this order would avert the threatened strike of the garment workers.

TWO prominent Democrats, two Republicans almost equally prominent, and one leading industrialist, all of them of conservative tendencies, have united to organize the American Liberty league dedicated to a war on radicalism in the United States. The five founders of the league are: Alfred E. Smith, Democratic Presidential candidate in 1928; John V. Davis, Democratic Presidential candidate in 1924; Nathan L. Miller, Republican ex-governor of New York; James W. Wadsworth, Republican congressman from New York, former senator and Presidential possibility for 1930; and Irene Du Pont, manufacturer, who supported Smith in 1928 and Roosevelt in 1932. They believe the league membership will grow into the millions and that it will become an important element in the national life.

For president of the organization the founders selected Jouett Shouse, former chairman of the Democratic national committee and president of the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment until repeal was accomplished. In a statement Mr. Shouse set forth the purposes of the league as follows:

"It is a nonpartisan organization, formed, as stated in its charter, to defend and uphold the Constitution of the United States and to gather and disseminate information that (1) will teach the necessity of respect for the rights of persons and property as fundamental to every successful form of government, and (2) will teach the duty of government to encourage and protect individual and group initiative and enterprise, to foster the right to work, earn, save, and acquire property, and to preserve the ownership and lawful use of property when acquired."

To interviewers Mr. Shouse declared the league was not anti-Roosevelt, but it seemed clear that it will be opposed to most of the major purposes of the New Deal and the radical professors of the brain trust. He said he had visited the President and informed him fully of the purposes of the league, but he would not tell what Mr. Roosevelt's reaction had been.

Mr. Shouse disclosed that the organization will have a board of national directors, composed of outstanding men and women from every state of the nation, and that from this group will be selected an executive committee of about eight members.

THE strike of truck drivers in Minneapolis was ended when the men and their employers accepted a compromise agreement, and martial law in the city was discontinued, business therefore speeding back to normal conditions. The peace plan devised by federal representatives, provided that all employees on strike be returned to their jobs without discrimination and on basis of seniority. It included an agreement to hold an election within ten days in each of the 100 firms involved to determine whether their employees want the drivers' union or other representatives to act for them in collective bargaining, and a pledge of the 100 firms to pay for at least one year not less than 50 cents an hour to drivers and 40 cents to helpers, platform men and inside workers, these wages to remain in effect unless changed by agreement or arbitration.

WILLIAM GREEN, president of the American Federation of Labor, says he hopes the general strike of textile industry workers will be averted; but he announces at the same time that the federation indorses the strike and will cooperate fully with the officers and members of the United Textile Workers' organization. He appointed federation committees to assist the textile workers and announced that he would draft training organizers and strike specialists from other unions to assist the textile union.

George A. Shoun, president of the Cotton Textile Institute and chairman of the cotton textile code authority, said the threatened strike is not justified by the facts established by impartial government economists.

Challenging the wage increase demand of the United Textile Workers of America, Mr. Shoun declared that "as a result of three basic wage provisions in the code the hourly wages paid in March, 1934, show an increase of 7 per cent as compared with March, 1933, when there was no code."

"All of this has meant a substantial increase in manufacturing costs," Mr. Shoun said, "and the research and planning division of the NIRA found, after a comprehensive investigation last June, that 'under existing conditions there is no factual or statistical basis for any general increase in cotton textile code wage rates.'"

LIEUT. COL. MARIO HERNANDEZ organized a plot to overthrow the government of President Mendelista of Cuba and establish a military dictatorship, but the authorities got wind of it and frustrated the conspiracy. In which a considerable part of the army was involved. Col. Fulgencio Batista, head of the army, said that Major Benitez and some soldiers were sent to arrest Hernandez and that eight men of the detachment were killed. Hernandez tried to shoot Benitez, but was himself shot in the hand and neck. The official report said Hernandez was being rushed toward Havana in an automobile and that the car, upon the prisoner being killed, though the others in the car were unhurt.

Maj. Angel Echeverria, commandant of Fourth Infantry at Camp Columbia, and Capt. Augustin Price, chief of the signal corps, conspirators with Hernandez, were captured later and a summary court-martial sentenced them to death.

EIGHTY-EIGHT Soviet citizens are now under arrest in Manchukuo, charged with plotting against Manchukuo and Japan and abetting Japanese military troops. The Russian government, through Acting Consul General Rayvid at Harbin, has presented to the foreign office of Manchukuo a demand for an explanation of the arrests and insists on prompt measures for the release of the prisoners.

The arrests were made without documents, accompanied by searches of the apartments and the offices of Soviet employees of the Chinese Eastern railway which have not been explained," Rayvid said.

The Japanese allege that some of the prisoners confessed to an attack on the Japanese military intelligence office at Suifuhen (Pogranichnyaya), to sending Manchurian and Korean communists into the territory, to wreck trains carrying Japanese troops and munitions toward the frontier, and to creating general disturbances along the eastern line.

Probably before long will come the news that the Japanese have seized the Chinese Eastern railway, and that may very well result in war between Japan and Russia.

BROOKLYN was the scene of one of the smartest crimes of recent times. A gang of bandits with machine guns held up an armored money truck, snatched $427,000 and fled in automobiles waded, were afterwards abandoned for speed boats. They carried the money and their loot out to sea. Their plans were so carefully laid and carried out with such precision that the forces of the law were at a loss for the time being. Though all avenues of escape by land and water were closely guarded, little or no trace of the bandits could be obtained.

have tasted the New Mundus Beer that is now coming from Mundus' new ageing cellars. This New Mundus is rich, full-bodied, and mellow. It is absolutely the famous Minchar Filters. This process purifies the water and removes all chlorine taste.

The New Mundus is thoroughly aged and has been taste-tested for flavor by thousands of men and women. They say it's the most delicious beer they have ever tasted. Get some of this New Mundus today.
Watch its snowy-crest-of-foam head mount as you
